NOTE THE FOLLOWING LITURGICAL CHANGES: During the Great Fifty Days of Easter through Pentecost Christians often made liturgical changes which emphasized the distinctive nature of Eastertide. One was to omit the saying of the public Confession of Sin to emphasize the ultimate defeat of sin and death that took place on the cross. Another was to remain standing during the Eucharistic Prayer as a sign of the shift from the penitential time of Lent to the festal nature of Eastertide (from canon law of the Council of Nicea). We have removed the formal Confession of Sin and encourage standing during the Eucharistic Prayer as you are able.
